

Dear Recruiter,

I met Moisey Uretsky back in April of 2015 when he came in for a fireside chat at Startup Institute. Since then, I have been very interested in Digital Ocean not only as a customer but as a potential employee. I currently work at a real estate company in NYC building out internal software in Ruby. It has been a great experience thus far.

I also have been working on a side project called Thrice.io. Thrice is a peer-to-peer mens fashion platform where guys can sell their premium clothes. At the real estate company, we are required to wear at least a shirt, tie and dress pants. I couldn't afford nice clothes at the time. So, I shopped online for used clothes and I just could not find anything. I also looked at ebay for options but I don't really like ebay for clothes. So, I decided to build Thrice. Fun project.

I have had a good experience since Startup Institute but now I'm looking for more of a challenge. I noticed that Digital Ocean is looking for a Ruby Developer in the Community Platform and I would love to be considered for this role. I have attached my resume and my LinkedIn.

Look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Michael McDevitt
